May Seize Elk Hotel For State

Attorney General Starts Action to Have Raffled Hostelry Forfeited

IS VALUED AT $300,000

Claim Building at Chippewa Falls Illegally Disposed of; Sues in Chippewa Court

An action was started by Atty. Gen. William J. Morgan in the circuit court of Chippewa county Thursday to have the $300,000 hotel property raffled by the Elks club of Chippewa Falls in July forfeited to the state under the lottery laws. The property is now in the hands of the holder of the ticket which won the hotel.

The move of the attorney general is explained by him as the first step in a general clean-up campaign of lotteries which he says appear to be sweeping the state. All of the ticket schemes which result in the winning of a valuable prize have been unlawful by an opinion of the attorney general.

If the state court action is successful, it will result in the hotel property being turned over to the school fund, which is empowered to sell it and use the money for school purposes.

The Elk's property was given away to the hoder of the ticket which was picked out of a huge raffle at Chippewa Falls. At that occasion tickets were sold for a ball for $1 which entitled the holder to one chance in the raffle.

The property was transferred to the holder of the ticket bearing the "lucky number" and had been held by his attorneys while certain encumbrances were cleared up.

W. W. Gilman, assistant attorney general, was sent by Mr. Morgan to Chippewa Falls Wednesday, where he investigated the matter and started action in the name of the state.

Wisconsin lottery laws are stringent, but previously have been laxly enforced because of the feeling that they were used largely for church purposes. The number has rapidly increased, however, Atty-Gen. Morgan said, until it is necessary to start to carry out the letter of the law.

It may be that other actions will follow.

Officials Claim Legality.

MILWAUKEE—Milwaukee Elk officials said Thursday that in their opinion the gift of the Milwaukee Elks clubhouse after a drawing last year was entirely legal and that no proceedings started by the attorney general, if any are contemplated, would succeed in having the property confiscated.

"The tickets sold to the Milwaukee Elks carnival and round-up admitted the purchasers to all entertainments given by the Elks during the week of the carnival," said Atty Chauncey Yockey, exalted ruler. "This would amount to about 50 cents admission for each person."

"The tickets also stated that at one of the performances a free drawing would take place and that the holder of the number drawn would receive as a gift a deed to the club house. This was carried out."

It's Easy to Drive Labor Into Another War Declares Shaw in Letter to America

Declines to Speak in Chicago Labor Day; Workers Should Hear Speakers of All Classes, He Declares in Answer to Invitation

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — George Bernard Shaw, British author and playwright has declined an invitation to address the Chicago Federation of Labor picnic on Labor Day.

"I do not think your federation can gather a complete notion of European conditions from any one person," Mr. Shaw wrote. "I you could obtain a series of three addresses from Kerensky, Lenine and from a capable Czarist you would learn something about Russia.

"If you could get a similar series from England from Mr. Ramsay McDonald as a representative of the second Internationale and from some equally able advocate of the third Internationale, followed by Winston Churchill as representative of British Imperialism and by Sir Donald MacLean as a liberti noninterventionist and so on through all the countries of Europe, hearing all sides and especially the side of the existing governing classes, which labor misunderstands and leaves contemptuously out of count, until it is suddenly carried away by it into war, then labor would begin to know its way about in questions of foreign military policy.

"At present it is so ignorant and consequently so helpless when a crisis comes that nothing is easier for a government threatened with labor legislation than to set workers of the world to cutting one another's throats furiously, and to make a great deal of money out of the process into the bargain. I have heard labor congresses denounce imperialism and secret diplomacy and war with enthusiasm and been perfectly aware that any imperilists adventurer who was a bit of a speaker could convert them in 20 minutes into a mob of shrieking, bloodthirsty patriots.

George Bernard Shaw.

"No address that I or any single man could deliver would make much difference in this respect. An address from Marshal Foch would be far more instructive, because three quarters of the labor men who are now denouncing him would find that they liked him very well, and heartily agreed with everything he said"

40,000 Mental Children Says Survey Report

Thousands in Wisconsin With Blurred Minds Says Survey

There are nearly 40,000 public school children in Wisconsin who are so mentally handicaped as to be unable to compete on equal terms with their fellows, report of the state mental deficiency survey shows. These children, if neglected, are likely to join the criminals, vagrants, paupers, and insane persons of later life, the report says.

Wisconsin is estimated to have seven feeble-minded persons to every 1,000 of population, or 18,000 for the state.

At present the state is shown to have provision for only 1,126 feeble-minded individuals in two state institutions.

"Feeblemindedness is said to be three times more frequent than insanity," the report declares. "We do not believe that the size, menace, and burden of this problem is fully realized. Greatly increased institutional facilities are needed, as well as special class provision in the public schools and supervision out in the community.

"There are two very definite needs deserving of serious consideration, one of them the provision of some machinery for the recognition of these conditions in state institutions and in the community, together with institution of proper segregation, treatment and training.

"The other need is for measures for prevention of factors which are the causes of these conditions. It is our belief that one of the most urgent needs in connection with the penal and correctional machinery of this state today is the creation of diagnosis facilities, on the basis of which an intelligent classification of offenders can be made and proper treatment, training and segregation instituted.

New Record to Milwaukee Set By Auto

"Cannon Ball" Baker Goes From Madison to Milwaukee in 1:47

A new official speed record for automobiles between Madison and Milwaukee was set on Thursday morning despite the handicap of detours, darkness and poor roads. The record of 2 hours and 4 minutes made by the Essex car, was bettered by seventeen minutes by E. G. "Cannon Ball" Baker, an ex-service man, who drove a Templar 4-cylinder, 18-horse power, leaving Madison at 1:30 a. m. Thursday morning, and arrived at Milwaukee at 3:17 central time.

The automobile was driven to the city limits on Atwood ave. about 1 o'clock Thursday morning, accompanied by a representative of The Capital Times, who acted as the official time keeper and starter at this end of the trip. Some twenty minutes was spent in going over the car before Baker (Indianapolis) the driver, and Harold Dimmer, Milwaukee, mechanic, donned their suits and climbed into the car. At 10 seconds before 1:30 Western Union time, the engine was started, and on the dot of 1:30 the car was off.

A Milwaukee newspaper man acted as timer at the other end of the trip. The car sped passed the city limits exactly at 4:17 Milwaukee daylight saving time, or 3.17 Western Union time. The first 35 miles out of Madison, on highway No. 12 was badly cut up by rain. Large ruts in the road kept the drivers from making better than second speed. The 35 miles, however, was made in 45 minutes. During the remainder of the trip, the machine was traveling between 60 and 75 miles an hour.

Baker claims to have set more automobile speed records with the Templar car than has been set by any man with any machine. Three official transcontinental records were made for the government during the war, when he carried dispatches by auto. This was Mr. Baker's second visit in Madison. He as here in 1918 on his All-Capitol runs in which he touched 48 capitols, covering 16,234 miles in 83 days, 18 hours and 50 minutes.

Hold Debs But Spies Are Freed

Socialist Committee Scores Harding for Failure to Grant Amnesty

ASSAIL AMERICAN LEGION

Organization Kidnaps Speakers and Fosters Mob Spirit is Charge Raised

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—In a statement issued Thursday commenting on Pres. Harding's failure to act on the pardon for Eugene V. Debs, the socialist national executive committee meeting here declares "we decline to accept the latest reason given for failure to act. It is not in accord with known facts. The statement refers to the release of many convicted German spies some of whom were convicted of placing bombs on ships sailing for European ports, and bitterly denounces the American Legion. The committee, the statement says, "learns with profound regret and indignation that, after months of waiting no action has been taken by Pres. Harding. The U. S. has today the unenviable distinction of being the only country where the administration has not granted a full amnesty to all political prisoners. Every German agent charged with overt acts against the government during the war has been pardoned. Some were convicted of placing bombs on ships sailing for European ports. The light sentences they received are significant. Acts which, if committed by American citizens would incur the death penalty for treason, are apparently considered of minor importance when compared with the frank criticisms uttered by citizens in war time.

"The analogy is all the more astonishing when press reports indicate the failure of the president to act is due to his desire to wait until peace is signed with Germany. We would understand the reasoning were it used to justify the continued incarceration of German agents convicted of criminal acts.

"We decline to accept the latest reason given for failure to act. It is not in accord with the known facts. It is known that one militarist organization, the American Legion, born under mysterious financial auspices, that has indulged in kidnapping of socialist speakers; that has fostered a mob spirit and has inspired and led mobs; that has usurped the civil and police functions of many communities; that is nursed by chambers of commerce and has attempted to terrorize those not in accord with its ignorant and reactionary views, has insolently attempted to thwart the efforts of millions to restore this country to its old status as a nation where all are free to speak and to write.

"This budding militarist-junker clique does not represent the present or the future. It represents the era of abysmal hatreds which it hopes to keep alive. If it gained ascendency in the councils of the nation it would suppress every civil right with the bayonet as the strutting militarist caste did in the old Germany. It represents darkness not light; ignorance, not intelligence; stupidity, not tolerance."

Says Norway and America Trade Allies

Commerce Pact Has Greatly Aided Both Countries Says Schmedeman

"European nations feel that America will not be able to increase her exports until we cancel some of the debts that other nations owe us," declared Albert G. Schmedeman in an address before the Madison Rotary club at their noon luncheon Thursday.

Mr. Schmedeman said in part:

"The struggle of the Central Powers for the control of the sea was short lived and inglorious. In a short time the Norwegian fleet was practically engaged in carrying for the allies, and consequently the Norwegian ships became targets for the German submarines with the result that over a thousand Norwegian sailors went to watery graves, and over a million tons of Norwegian shipping were destroyed. But a great harvest of gold and plenty began to pour in upon Norway. Her income from freights carried by her ships rose to over a billion crowns a year. Her nitrates, and electrical metallurgical products were sold for tremendous prices. From a land in which cheap prices had prevailed, Norway became the second highest priced country in the world.

"In entering the field of international commerce, Norway has turned to America. Before the war, our commerce with Norway as very small, only about 6 per cent of her imports coming from America. During the war Norway was cut off from getting supplies from practically every other source and there was a time during the war when the U. S. was supplying 90 per cent of the total imports into Norway. At the time when conditions were the most critical in Norway, an agreement was entered into between the War Trade board of this country and Norway, whereby Norway was to receive 500,000 tons per annum of supplies from this country. This agreement was carried out and contributed to the mutual respect which the Norwegian and American businessmen have for each other."

Trouble in Mingo Due to Lack of Understanding He Declares

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Pres. Harding, speaking Thursday at the opening of the fall term of the Army War college, declared that "no matter where the best aspirations of the world lead us there never may be a time without the necessity for armed force."

The president however pledged the 200 officers that during his administration they would never be called to perform military service "they could not enter into with all their heart and soul as Americans."

Referring to the situation in the West Virginia coal fields, the president said:

"We ought not to have a conflict like that which is going on in West Virginia. It is due to lack of understanding."

"I wish with all my heart," he added, "that there will be less of armies and navies."

Declaring that the world only lately had come to a civilized state of armed warfare, the president reiterated that he thought it "perfectly futile to think there never may be armed conflicts."

"We of America wihout unnecessary boasting," he continued, "have come nearer to civilized warfare than any nation."

Two Millions in Building in 4 Months

Record Breaking July Brings Unprecedented Building Boom Here

Almost two million dollars worth of building has been contracted for in Madison since May 1, according to figures made public on Thursday at the office of Building Commissioner Phillip Dean. Of this amount $1,059,199 was included in the building permits issued during July. For the four months ending on Wednesday, the building activities totalled $1,951,796.

There has been no slump in the amount of building, though the value of the work was less in August than in July owing to the letting of the contracts for a number of large structures such as the $315,000 Beaver building; the $250,000 East Side high school, the $200,000 Luther Memorial church, and a fraternity house and large apartment house, which together added more than $40,000.

In amount the building during August increased. There were more permits issued for homes and garages. The total valuation of the work contracted for in August was $297,650. The majority of permits were for residences, alterations on residences or for garages. The building boom in Madison began early in May and started the warm weather period off with $87,172 for that month. At the end of June the permits totalled $507,775.

Gunmen Held Cause of Mine War by Lewis

Union Head Declares Private Sleuths Responsible for Warfare

By John L. Lewis,
President United Mine Workers of America.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—In West Virginia, from the line of the Kanawha river northward, some 55,000 miners are employed, working under joint agreements between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America. In this section, peace and harmony prevail between employers and employes, with precisely the same relationship as exists between the mine operators of Ohio, Indiana or Illinois, and their employes, who are members of the United Mine Workers of America in those states.

In all of this great area, the Baldwin Felts mine guard or professional gunmen are unknown; no disorders occur and community life in the mining camps is peaceful.

Miners Fear Discharge.

Contrast this condition with the situation existing in the unorganized territory south and east of the Kanawha river in the counties of Logan, Mingo, McDowell and Mercer. In this section some 40,000 miners are employed who dare not become members of the United Mine Workers for fear of instant discharge by the operators. They live in unincorporated mining camps where their domiciles and the land upon which they are located are owned solely by the coal companies.

To police this territory, prevent the miners from joining the union, and hold them in complete subjection, the coal operators maintain what is practically a standing army of guards. The guards are furnished under contract by a detective agency.

Guards Are Armed.

These guards are recruited from all classes and are equipped with rifles, revolvers or automatic pictols. These professional gunmen, directed by the agency, have inflicted an almost countless number of physical assaults and outrages upon individual mine workers. The men employed in the mines of these four counties are almost 100 per cent American. They are of a race of mountaineers who have peopled this section since the days of the first settlement of the country, and deep in their hearts is the inborn love of liberty. Their spirits rebel against the unwarranted restrictions upon their liberty and the indignities which are perpetrated upon them. They have in vain sought redress from the constituted civil authorities of these counties and from the executives of the commonwealth of West Virginia.

Unions in Protest.

The international officials have repeatedly taken the matter up with governmental departments at Washington, extending back through several administrations, and, despite these efforts, the mine guards of West Virginia continue to flourish.

Federal trops may restore order in West Virginia, but unless the primary cause of this constantly recurring trouble is removed by abolition of the mine guard army and recognition of the constitutional rights of the miners in this section, the dove of peace will never make permanent abode in this stricken territory.

Miners Still Gathering

(By the Associated Press)

LOGAN, W. Va. — Approach of noon Thursday found thousands of men still gathered across the Logan county line. At Crooked Creek firing which started Wednesday morning, continued, but reports from other border sections were that quiet prevailed. There was no indication however, that any of the armed bands had dispersed.

Prediction was made that 12 o'clock today would find armed bands still gathered on the Boone county side of Spruce Ford Ridge. That hour was designated by Pres. Harding in Tuesday's proclamation as the time limit for the dispersion of all persons, "engaged in unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings" the alternative being the dispatch of federal troops to the affected district and declaration of martial law in four counties.

Highway and School Cost is 55 Per Cent

Tax Commission Says Taxation Relief Must Come at Home

Disbursements for highways and schools constitute 55 per cent of all public expenditures, which during the past year totaled $112,768,910, the state tax commission points out in its monthly bulletin today.

Contrary to common understanding, the report says, the expenditures for general government, including salaries and expenses of the several executive, judicial, legislative and administrative departments, both state and local, constitutes but a minor part of total disbursements, or 6.6 per cent this past year.

The total receipts for the state, counties, cities and villages were $119, 274,136 in 1920 and $92,959,783 in 1918, showing an increase of 28.3 per cent for the two-year period. Of these receipts, the commission says that $78,456,693, or 65.7 per cent, was derived from taxes in 1920 and $61,697,841, or 66.4 per cent, in 1918.

The aggregate disbursements for the year 1920 were $112,768,910, and in 1918 $86,718,954, or an increase of 30 per cent.

Expenditures for schools totalled 26.7 per cent of all disbursements, or $31,634,144, and for highways 28.1 per cent, or $30,139,004. The increase in expenditures for highways was 51.8 per cent, for schools 32 per cent and for indebtedness 27.2 per cent. The cost of government was $7,460,276, compared to $6,197,758 in 1918.

Among the different classes of municipal units, cities are shown to be by far the most expensive, while they contain only 50 per cent of the population and about 47 per cent of the taxable wealth of the state. Their aggregate expenditures, exclusive of schools, exceeds the expenditure of all towns, villages and counties combined, and equals the expenditure of the state and 71 counties with $37,230,699 spent annually.

The tax commission says that "as the total expenditures of the state constitute only 14 per cent of the expenditures of all civil divisions, and 6 per cent of the expenditures are under the control of the counties and local districts, it is clear as pointed out before, that any material reduction in the cost of government must begin at home."

Says Average Hourly Wage of Rail Men High

WASHINGTON—If the railroads undertook to enable wheat farmers to pay their labor the same hourly wage received by railroad employes the carriers would have to cancel the entire freight rate charge on grain and pay the farmers a bounty of 23.14 cents a bushel M. O. Lorenz, statistician, declared Thursday in an exhibit in the case on reduction of freight rates on grain and hay. The hourly average wage at present of railroad employes, the exhibit showed, is 61.5 cents against 15 cents an hour for farm labor in Minnesota. To have paid 61.5 an hour to farm workers would have increased the cost of producing a bushel of wheat 36.5 cents, the figures showed. They showed that average monthly wage of freight engineers since wages were reduced on the railroads amounts to $215.22, passenger engineers $240, firemen $152.46, switchmen $139.68 and section hands $77.60.

RESCUES TWO BOYS WITH PATCHED BOAT

(By the Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill.—Patching an abandoned rowboat and using a board for an oar, Charles Moore, keeper of the Gross Point lighthouse here, saved Robert and Kenneth Ball of Evanston and David Watson of Kansas City from drowning. Moore was standing in front of the lighthouse when a veering gust of wind overturned the boat in which the boys were sailing a quarter of mile off shore. Moore improvised his oar, filled holes in an abandoned rowboat with cloth and reached the overturned boat in time to dive and rescue Robert Ball and Watson.

Citizens Have Right To Ask Public Record

Any Information Which Will Not Embarrass Bureau, Public Ruling

Any citizen of the state has a right to demand and receive a copy of any departmental record of information provided that its disclosure would not be against public policy or reveal a privileged matter which would embarrass the department in the exercise of its duties, A. C. Reis, assistant attorney general, holds in an opinion to Edward Nordman, commissioner of markets, today.

The owner of a milk condensary who had reported the price paid for milk in accordance with the department order, had demanded to know what prices were paid by competing condensaries. It was held that in this case, the commissioner would determine whether disclosure of the information would embarrass his department.

Common law right in this state requires, "that the party have a direct and tangible interest, as distinct from a curious, speculative, malicious or political motive," in receiving information, the opinion says.

Statutory right, however, "abolishes the common law requirement of 'interest' as a condition precedent and makes the right of obtaining a certified copy available to all persons, regardless of use."

This is tempered in the opinion to give the head of the department the right to keep secret information if "the disclosure would be against policy or would reveal a privileged matter, or would embarrass the department in the exercise of its duties."

Science, Art, Law All Prove Man Is Father of Child

SAN FRANCISCO—Science, act and the law are one in declaring Julius B. Sorine, the father of the third child of his divorced wife. The mother had declared the husband was not the father of the cild, whose custody he sought.

Dr. Albert Abrams made a series of blood tests of father and son which he declared provided positive proof that the child was Sorine's. The mother maintained she should know better than science who was the father.

Sculptor Haig Patigian by sketches worked out a facial expression test. Patigian reported to the court the child resembled Sorine.

Wednesday Judge Graham said:

"Irrespective of these tests which are very interesting and instructive the law determines the question very clearly. The youngest child was born during the lawful wedlock of the parties and there is legal presumption that the boy is their legitimate child."

Smuts Claims U. S. and Japs in Naval Race

Premier Declares Rivalry is Launching New Problem Into World

(By the Associated Press)

CAPE TOWN, So. Africa—Speaking at a luncheon given in his honor Wednesday, Gen. Jan C. Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, manifested hopefulness for a conclusion of peace between Great Britain and Ireland. He pointed out the dangers of the Silesian difficulty and made casual reference to the "naval rivalry of America and Japan, who are launching new problems on the world."

Gen. Smuts said the situation in Ireland when he arrived in London was indescribable. "any idea of such a state of affairs, if it had existed before the great war would have been scouted," the premier declared. The only solution of it was "dominion home rule."

Gen. Smuts characterized world conditions as "exceedingly sad to anyone coming in contact with these problems."

Cheers greeted his declaration that the withdrawal of the U. S. from international affairs left the British Empire as "the only stabilizing influence in world affairs."

Record Crowd At State Fair Is Predicted

Milwaukee Day Expected to Offset Slump Due to Bad Weather

MILWAUKEE — Milwaukee is expected to throw its weight into the balance at the Wisconsin state fair on Thursday to offset the handicap resulting from Tuesday's rain which checked attendance and gate receipts in spite of the record made on Monday.

With the prediction of fair weather, a municipal holiday on which not only all city and county offices will be closed, but practically all business houses as well, with the influx of autoists from the state taking advantage of roads having dried, it is conceded that the attendance figures will be smashed.

Many groves are available for parking purposes when the spaces within the ground reaches its capacity of 15,000.

The effect of the soldiers' educational bonus act in aiding former service men in securing an education is said to be shown in a letter received by E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education. The letter addressed to the board follows:

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier, and twenty-five years stronger expresses what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least.

"I never miss a chance of saying good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the "Sixties" who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by the Luckey Pharmacies and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

AT TH7 MAJESTIC

The great snow storms last February, which stopped traffic on the railroads and entirely isolated towns like Port Henry, on Lake Champlain, were a blessing in disguise. This has been one of the most severe winters Port Henry has ever experienced, but also one of the most prosperous. And the reason is the motion picture. As soon as Rex Beach heard of the ideal conditions at Pork Henry, for Alaskan snow scenes, the Goldwyn Company sent their actors and directors to Lake Champlain to take the winter scenes for the next Beach picture entitled, "The North Wind's Malice," now showing at the Majestic. A two reel Torchy Comedy with Johnnie Hines "Crowning Torchy" and latest News Weekly are also showing.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise me in this. My husband had a quarrel over his speaking to a lady who has moved here from another town whom he used to know. He passes her house almost every time we drive, but never speaks to her. While alone one time he said she spoke to him and he spoke to her. He has never taken me to call on her and he knows her and the husband well. He says she is all right only he heard she was not good.

He speaks to her uptown and then gets angry when I say anything about it and says he doesn't care if he never speaks to her. What would you advise?

He is more pleasing while around others than to me and if I say anything he talks ugly. I have offered to call on these people, but he says he doesn't want to go for he does not care for them, but he always speaks to the husband in a friendly way. W. M. E.

I can't understand your husband's attitude. There is no reason why he should not speak to a woman he used to know and be friendly to her husband. In fact, if he did not speak it would be rude. On the other hand, he may not be interested enough to care to call and become friends.

Let your husband feel perfectly free to speak to whomever he wants to. You have no cause to be jealous and to question him in the matter looks as if you were jealous.

Perhaps you say things to your husband which irritate him and if you are more tactful and avoid expressing unpleasant thoughts he will be less cross to you. Most men have to be humored in their moods to be happy at home. If you try, I believe you can make your husband as pleasant in the home as he is elsewhere.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of seventeen. I have lots of boy friends and girl friends, but there is one thing I cannot understand. Every time I talk to a fellow or walk down the street with one, even though I have only known him a short time, he will ask to take me to a show or to the park.

My girl friend often goes with those same fellows, but they never ask to take her out. Don't think I am one of those girls who allows a fellow to kiss her, because I am not and neither is my girl friend.

Why don't they ask to take her? She is a better looking girl than I am and the same age.

WONDERING.

Perhaps you have a more winsome personality than your girl friend and when the boys see you they at once try to suggest something that will please you. Do not become confident in yourself merely because they like you now. A girl who enjoys popularity at an early age is apt to age rapidly and lose her hold on young men at the time when she would most enjoy attention.

Billy Whiskers

By Frances Montgomery

When the old goat told Billy he had not seen the twins, Billy did not know where to turn next. As he walked disconsolately he heard the roar and rumbling of the distant city, whose lights he saw twinkling in the darkness. "There is where they have gone, I am sure. Punch is such an inquisitive goat, just like I used to be, that he has probably coaxed Judy to go with him to see the sights. And there I will find them. But what a task I have before me, to find two small goats in a big city. But I'll either find them or drop dead looking for them."

"Baa, Baa, Baa!"

Hello! Who calls?" said Billy as he turned to look behind him in the direction from which the sound came. He saw Nannie and Daisy running toward him.

On seeing them he thought, of course, that they had come to tell him the twins were found, but he learned they had come because they were so discouraged they did not known what else to do.

"Oh, Billy, don't tell us you have not found them or met anyone who has seen them," baaed Nannie in distress."

"No, I have not seen or heard of them, but come here and I will show you where I expect to find them."

When they had jumped upon the wall he said: "Do you see that city? Well, that is where I expect to find them."

"Oh, father, don't tell me you think they have gone there!" cried Daisy in alarm, "for if they have they are indeed lost, and we will never see them again. Oh! Oh! Oh! Why didn't they obey and not go on the highroad?"

"I am sure I don't know, my dear," said Billy in a kind voice, for he could not bear to witness their mother's distress, so he said: "Cheer up. I soon will find them," though in his heart he was far from feeling as cheerful as his voice and manner implied. "Now, Daisy, you go back to the farm with mother and wait until I go to the city and see if I can find them. But whatever you do, don't you and Nannie try to find me or the kids if I don't come back, for it would be useless, and then I might come home and find you both gone, and it would make it doubly hard if I had to turn around and go find you and mother."

They promised, and after an affectionate goodbye and much rubbing of noses they turned and went back home, while Billy disappeared in the direction of the city.

The nearer the city he got the more his heart sank at the task before him. But he went courageously on and reached its limits as the church clocks were striking the midnight hour. Everything was still in the suburbs, except the occasional barking of a dog or the kicking of a horse in its stall.

Billy went from shed to shed, smelling and listening, but alas! in the darkness he had failed to see the shed at the end of the lane where Judy was, so he passed right by. He also passed the barn where Punch was, because just as he went to inspect it a big dog bounded out at him and chased him down the street, and he only got rid of him by turning and butting the dog over a fence.

(Tomorrow will tell what was happening to the twins while Billy was hunting for them.)

Big Duck Season is Predicted; Opens Sept. 16

Huntsmen are harkening to the tales from the northern woods. The duck season opens Sept. 16, and it is claimed that conditions are ripe for filling the big baks this year. It is said that there are more ducks this year than in a decade past. The season closes Dec. 20.

Men returning from canoe trips in the rivers of the northern woods it is no longer unusual frequently to see a brood of duckling, and as many as fifteen families are encountered in an hour along the river. The United States and Canada joint hunting laws passed in 1915 are credited by woodsmen for the large number of ducks. The ducks have been unmolested in their breeding seasons and the effect of the law is now starting to be felt, it is asserted. The new law requiring all men carrying guns to be licensed is also a big factor in preventing out of season shooting, it is believed.

Seek to Recover Ship With Million Treasure

NEW YORK—Bound on a quest for more than $1,000,000 in sunken treasure, the steam trawler Ripple is plowing south headed for Cape Charles, Va., and the submerged wreck of the Ward liner Merida. The Merida was sunk in about 35 fathoms of water May 12, 1911, in a collision. Her cargo included gold and silver bullion valued at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, which she was transporting from Hanava to New York. The Ripple's salvaging expedition is the second undertaken. The first effort was made in 1916 and was reported to have been financed by James A. Stillman, banker, and Percy Rockefeller. Converse D. West, a broker, is backer of the present expedition.

Filled Milk Battle Soon in the Court

Supreme Court Will Be Asked to Take Jurisdiction

Enforcement of the state law prohibiting manufacture or sale of milk compounds in Wisconsin, effective Sept. 27, will be held up pending an important court battle that may be carried to the United States Supreme court, if attorneys for large milk concerns are successful in the move they will make for court review of the statute.

Application of the law, which was almost unanimously passed by the legislature, will mean the elmination of the production of adulterated milk compounds. J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, is prepared to put the law into effect.

The milk companies plan to go directly before the State Supreme court September 20, when it meets to hear their arguments, and at that time ask them to take original jurisdiction of the case, and grant a temporary injunction restraining the dairy and food commissioner from enforcing the statute.

Should the Supreme court accept the suit, the case of the milk companies will be presented, based on the ground that the law is unconstitutional, calling for confiscation of property without due process, and on other grounds. If unsuccessful before the state court they plan to go to the United States Supreme court.

The first step in the action was taken last week. At that time Attorney General Morgan refused to take part in the action to adjudge the law unconstitutional, when requested to do so by the attorney for the milk companies.

A somewhat similar law passed by the Ohio legislature was carried to the United States Supreme court and declared constitutional.

Illinois Central System Shows How Taxes Have a Bearing on Railway Rates

Notwithstanding that for the past twelve months the railroads as a whole have earned almost no net return on the capital invested in them, many persons insist that freight and passenger rates be reduced regardless of the costs of producing that transportation service which the public must have. We wish, therefore, to direct attention to the fact that the costs of producing transporation are still relatively much higher than the rates. We think it fair to ask the public to give consideration to what the railroads are having to pay for labor, materials, locomotives, fuel, cars, taxes and interest on borrowed capital before passing final judgment upon the reasonableness of present freight and passenger rates.

It is true that, effective July 1, railway wages were reduced 12 per cent, but they are still 108 per cent higher than they were in 1914—the year of the beginning of the great war which upset everything. Road locomotives cost 123 per cent more, switch enginest cost 144 per cent more, gondola cars cost 117 per cent more, refrigerator cars cost 107 per cent more, box cars cost 122 per cent more, steel passenger coaches cost 100 per cent more and locomotive fuel costs 138 per cent more at present than in 1914. The Illinois Central System sold bonds in 1914 on a basis yielding less than 5 per cent to the purchasers. It recently sold $8,000, 000 of bonds running for fifteen years, and the best terms it was able to secure yielded a return of more than 7 per cent to the purchasers.

Take the single item of direct taxes for a ten-year period. The Class I railroads, which include all railroads having gross operating incomes of $1,000,000 or more annually, paid $98,626,848 in taxes in 1911. In 1920 the same railroads paid $278,868,668 in taxes, an increase of $180,241,820, or 183 per cent.

The Illinois Central System paid $3,278,107.96 in taxes in 1911, while in 1920 it paid $9,575,680.87, an increase of $6,297,572.91, or 192 per cent.

But these are not the only taxes affecting transportation charges. When the shipper pays his freight bill, he should remember that 3 per cent of what the railroad's bill otherwise would be is added and collected by the railroad as a transportation tax. Likewise, when the passenger pays for his ticket, he should remember that 8 per cent of what he otherwise would pay the railroad is added and collected for the government as a transportation tax. Patrons generally consider only the total cost of freight and passenger transportation, any many think the railroads get the whole amount.

The transportation tax collected by the railroads for the government on freight bills in 1920 totaled $129,710,329.80, and on passenger fares, $103,099,633.36—a grand total of $232,809,963.16! This vast sum isnot included in any of the railway accounts. It was collected by the railroads acting as agents for the government and remitted directly to the government.

As the agent of the government the Illinois Central System collected from its patrons in 1920 the sum of $3,084,072.54 as transportation tax on freight, and $2,254,256.87 as transportation tax on passenger fares, a total of $5,338,329.41! This is not included in the above mentioned item of $9,575,680.87 direct taxes paid, but was collected and remitted directly to the government.

The question of abolishing the transportation tax is having consideration at Washington. The abolition of this tax would reduce railway rates without injury to the railroads.

We do not bring up the question of railway taxation in a spirit of complaint. We realize that all citizens and all businesses must bear their just proportion of the expense of government. We refer to the matter just now to make it clear that railway taxation must be added to the cost of transportation and necessarily has a bearing on freight and passenger rates.

The Illinois Central System has been striving for more than a year to present facts in regard to railway problems for the consideration of the public. The public will be able to decide for itself the advisability of such a course when it considers that the management of the Illinois Central System is the trustee of an investment in roadway and equipment of more than a half billion dollars. We realize that this property, and all railway property, will be dealt with accordingly as public sentiment develops and crystallizes. We feel, therefore, that we must present our case before the court of public opinion, and we are glad to do that, having an abiding faith in the fairness and justice of the people when they have the facts before them.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central System.

Foreign Oils Lead Today's Stock Market

Furnish Only Exception to Lower Trend in Prices at Opening

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK — The foreign oil group furnished the only noteworthy exception to the lower trend of prices at the opening of Thursday's market. Mexican and Pan American Petroleums registered one point gains, pesumably in connection with reports of an early compromise agreement between the Mexican government and American oil interests. Steels, equipments, rails, shippings and food shares were lower. These were chiefly represented by crucible, General Electric, Reading, Chicago & Northwestern, American International and American Sugar where losses extended from large fractions to 1½ points.

Mexican Petroleum's further advance with concurrent gains in related issues overshadowed all other features of the later trading. Rails continued to hang back. The close was irregular.

Aid Farmer Cooperatives Bureau Plan

Uniform Accounting and Business Practices To Be Introduced

The state department of markets is preparing to aid the farmer co-operative marketing enterprises in extending their scope and perfecting sound business organization, according to announcement of L. G. Foster, assistant director, today.

Uniform accounting systems are to be devised and installed in the local co-operative associations, whose books are opened to inspection by the department of markets under the new state law.

The importance of co-operative marketing by farmer organizations cannot be overestimated in Wisconsin, Mr. Foster said. Already there are 1,400 cheese factories, out of a total of 2,700 in the state; 600 co-operative livestock shipping companies; 600 co-operative creameries; 150 co-operative potato warehouses, and 40 co-operative grain elevators.

Products handled by these hundreds of companies are valued at millions of dollars annually, and their marketing presents a problem demanding exercise of the highest business sagacity, Mr. Foster declared.

Individual co-operative companies, incorporated in localities, are being organized now into federations along the line of the Cheese Producers' Federation, in order better to meet the marketing situation. The department of markets is fostering consolidation as long as it is along commodity lines, and does not call for organization of the entire industry under one head, as proposed by some interests of the state.

Outside of the co-operative enterprises already mentioned, there are ten co-operative tobacco warehouses in the state, 50 co-operative stores, the Sturgeon Bay Fruit Growers association, Milk Producers' association at Milwaukee, Superior, Watertown, and southeastern Wisconsin.

The co-operative movement started in the state 25 years ago when the first livestock shippers association was organized at River Falls, Mr. Foster said. Previous to that the Grange had operated a few stores co-operatively, but the attempt was not permanent.

Fined For Speeding Though Innocent, Claim; Not In City

Al Pertzborn, who was arraiged in Superior court Wednesday morning charged with speeding, has decided that it is cheaper to plead guilty than not guilty. Al was charged with speeding on Aug. 28. On that date, Al was out of town and did not return to Madison until the 29th. He told the court that he had 25 witnesses to prove that fact. However, the court decided that Al might have speeded on the 27th. Again Al came back:

"My car has not been driven since the 26th," he said.

The court did not know what to do, so it was decided to hold Al for trial Wednesday morning. Bail was set at $200. Pertzborn decided that he might as well plead guilty, although he insisted that he was innocent.

"First they bring me up here and charge me with speeding on the 28th of August. Then they change it to the 27th. I don't know what they'll do next, so I might as well plead guilty," Al told a friend. "It will only cost me $10 and costs if I plead guilty; whereas it might cost me a heap more by the time I got through the trial. I guess I'll plead guilty and have the thing off my mind."

When Lincoln Was A Barefoot Boy—

EVERY scrap of printed paper that came to his hands was a treasure trove. He read it eagerly—conning every line—getting every worth while word.

What a harvest he could have garnered from a modern newspaper! And not the least interesting to him would have been the advertisements, with their stories and their pictures of products, appliances and services that have smoothed the course of life to a degree unknown and unbelievable in the rough pioneer days.

Nowadays new comforts and conveniences slip into our lives almost without our realizing it. We are liable to be rather matter-of-fact about it all. And advertising that has made it simpler to make and distribute profitably innumerable products at reasonable prices, has played a leading part in making our life so eminently easy to live.

Read over the advertisements and try to think what the things you see there would have meant to our forefathers. Then you'll realize what a service and what a convenience advertising is to you.

TAEGUE, WHIRLWIND SCRAPPER, MEETS KAHN LABOR DAY

Big Crowd to Back Fighter Here Monday

Indianapolis Battler Favorite in Semi-Windup of Labor Day Card

Local Fans are warned to get their tickets for the Labor day boxing card in advance, owing to the fact that many will be here from out of town and the park will be crowded during the day with fans who will decide to see the show at the last minute

With a large following from Avoca and Lone Rock coming to the fight here and with plenty of gold dust ready to be spilled in his behalf as a victor over Harry Kahn, Tommy Taegue of Indianapolis, rated as one of the leading glove artists in his class, will step into Jack Boyd's Monona A. C. ring on Monday afternoon a confident opponent for his friendly enemy. The gong to open the show will sound at 3:30 sharp on Labor day afternoon. The big Labor day crowd will undoubtedly give up enough of its sporting blood to fill the big auditorium comfortably.

Taegue, whose home is near Lone Rock, may if he finds the atmosphere here congenial, make Madison a part time headquarters, also spending some time at Lone Rock. Taegue is after the hard men—that's why he is going to meet Kahn. Kahn is said to one of Milwaukee's comers and Taegue, likes to knock them cold as fast as he can find 'em. Some idea of Taegue's ability to fight may be gained from the fact that he had decisively defeated Bud Farrell, who in turn whipped Tony Caponi and men of that class.

With the news that Eddie DeBeau and Eddie Boehme will clash on Labor day here, comes the challenge from St. Paul from Johnny Noye, who wishes to meet the winner of this windup scrap. Noye is seeking bouts with Wallace, Boehme and De Beau. Milwaukee also has an aspirant for the lightweight honors in the person of Joe Martin who demands to meet the winner of the Taegue-Kahn fight.

Taegue will arrive in Madison on Saturday. DeBeau and Boehme will be here the latter part of this week to taper of at the University gym. The men will weigh in at Abaly's at 10 a. m. Monday. The prelim between Jack Craig and Jack Bitney, both of Madison, is expected to be a thriller. Craig is working out at the Y. M. C. A. where he is showing considerable form.

2 Weeks Left Before Grid Season Opens

Badger Prospects Reported in Condition for Training Grind

With but practically two weeks left before the opening of the Big Ten conference football season, Wisconsin students, alumni of the Badger institution and lovers of the sport are turning their attention toward the Cardinal prospects of the 1922 championship honors.

With a strong backfield, including "T" Gould, star open field runner, the varsity coaching staff, it is said will find its chief problem to pick a pilot and a formidable line. Ralph Scott, Montana giant tackle of last year, will take charge of the line this year.

Many of the players will return to Madison a few days before Sept. 15. The first two or three days of practice will be taken up in issuing of suits and the customary setting up exercises to get the men limbered up after a summer of relaxation from athletics. A number of the prospects have been hard at work during the vacation months and will be in trim for the strenuous grind which precedes the opening games.

Smith, quarterback of the frosh eleven last year, cannot be counted as a candidate for the pilot position on the varsity this fall, it has been learned. He has made preparations for entering Knox college this fall and will play on Sam Barry's team. There is still a question about Wallace Barr's eligibility. Barr alternated with Davy as quarterback of the Badger team last season.

Ellickson, one of the fastest big men who ever attended the university here, will be back in school this fall and may be eligible for the team. He weighs between 190 and 200 pounds. He played guard on the Eau Claire Normal school last year.

James Brader, Madison, tackle, who has been coaching athletics at a northern Wisconsin summer resort during the summer, is reported to be as hard as nails. A letter received from him states that he weighs about 191 pounds. He expects to return to Madison about Sept. 8. Guy Sundt, captain and fullback, has been working in an industrial plant at Stoughton, and says that he will be in the pink of shape when he reports here Sept. 15. Red Shaughnessy and "Red" Maher will not be with the arsity this year. They have made arrangements to attend Notre Dame.

De Beau-Boehme Battle Will Be One of Toughest Bouts in Local Ring History--Roundy

In Taking On Boehme, De Beau is Biting Off a Big Chunk, Roundy elieves; Record Crowd is Expected to Attend

By ROUNDY

The local fans having been yelling for a long time to see DeBeau take on some tough meat here. Take it from me in Boehme he is biting into a hard piece of soup bone.

* * *

I saw Boehme and Otto Wallace fight the semi-windup at the Jackson and Tendler fight for ten rounds. It was without a doubt the roughest go that a Milwaukee crowd ever saw.

* * *

When Tendler and Jackson crawled through the ropes no one saw them or gave them any hand at all. The fans were still talking and cheering for that semi windup.

* * *

I will tell you how good a boy Boehme is. He got a thousand dollars for his end. When you get that jack for a semi, then make up your mind that the man has got to have something good.

* * *

De Beau has had twenty fights this year winning them all. Four of them he won in the first round and five before the sixth. Out of the twenty fights he has six knockouts to his credit.

* * *

And to show you the spirit this DeBeau fights in, he is going to give away four pounds to Boehme which shows you that he thinks that he can rock him to sleep.

* * *

There will be at least 3 other preliminaries on the card and with the highest ticket selling at $2 you can make up your mind there will be a nice house. You cannot help but pull a good house at that price with that windup.

* * *

The advance sale of seats has been the biggest Boyd has ever had up todate. Small towns are sending in for nice little blocks. There are a few choice seats left at Fishers and Abalys.

* * *

I saw DeBeau stop a fighter at the Green and Mandell windup at Rockford ten days ago. He failed to knock him out but you never saw such throwing of towels in a ring in your life as they did for their man in the fourth round as DeBeau had him reeling like a cork on the ocean.

* * *

Frank Mulkern the Milwaukee big fight promoter will attend the fight. He has staged some of the greatest fights in the business. Tendler and Wilde the English flyweight and Leonard have fought for his club.

* * *

If this fight draws a large house you might see Walter Greyjack and Sammy Mandell matched before the Monona arena closes. O boy!

* * *

The fights at Monona park arena will start at 3:30 sharp on Labor day. Tickets will be sold on the grounds till about 3:15, so the fans should get their seats before they get over there and save themselves some trouble. Getting it early you can get a better seat.

* * *

Ladies are welcome at the fights. There have been a nice number in the last two fights. So let's see on Labor day if we cannot see a larger number.

* * *

From the wicked press agent stuff that they are sending out, this Wilson-Downey fight for Labor day sure is great. They have me believing it of late.

* * *

I bet a man that Middleton would defeat Madison and now he will not pay. He says he wants that Federal jury that is to sit here probe that game. Officer lock me up.

* * *

Pete Esser of Cross Plains has had a laughing spell since hearing that Mt. Horeb got beat by Cambridge and they cannot stop him. The Dr. claims that the only thing that will stop him will be to have Mt. Horeb get beat again. If that's the case he will laugh himself to death.

* * *

Maybe when Downey and Wilson get in that vast arena at Jersey city on Labor day and look around for an hour trying to see where the 30,000 people are, chances are they will not fight as they will believe that nobody has come to see them.

* * *

The only day that they could hold that fight and make me believe it was a fitting day for it would be April 1st.

Jess Willard wants to fight Dempsey again. Why don't Jess take off his whiskers and quit kidding the public.

Wilstar Wins Victory Over F. National

Takes Lead From Favorite On Slow Track; Sir Roach Wins

Riser Patchen, Stoughton horse, owned by Dr. A. J. Nelson, finished in fourth place in each of the three heats in the 2:14 pace and won fourth money of a purse of $1,500.

MILWAUKEE — After Fayette National, a Milwaukee entry in the state fair races Wednesday afternoon, had taken first in the first heat in the 2:15 trot and Great Excitement first in the second heat, Wilstar, driven by Marvin trotted to victory in the third heat and necessitated the trotting of another heat between the heat winners. All three heats winners won by a fair margin and turned the dope upside down. Fayette National was a favorite, but was nosed out in the second and third heat. After a great race Wilstar finally came out victorious in the final and deciding heat. The time for the event was not exceptionally fast due to the slow track.

One of the features of the afternoon's racing program was the victory of Sir Roach driven by Charles Dean, Jr., in the 2:14 pace. Sep Palin, veteran race track driven, was nosed out even after he had taken the first heat. Sir Roach paced a beautiful race in the second heat, coming under the wire fully 50 feet ahead of the field.

Dorothy Day, driven by Thomas, and Kilo Watts, driven by Childs, had an event almost to themselves in the 2:09 trot. Dorothy Day took the first two heats with Kilo Watts a close second. In the final heat Kilo Watts trotted in great fashion and took the heat.

Prince Laurie, considered the greatest double gaited horse in the world, will pace an exhibition mile at the state fair race track Thursday afternoon. Prince Laurie won the Transylvania trot in 2:03¼, a record which stands, while MsDevitt drove him in the mile pace for a record which stands, while McDevitt year old, of the Charles Dean stables, is considered by horsemen to be one of the most promising horses on the track. It looks as though the young pacer will be able to pace the mile in 2:00 before many more days.

Gibbons Gives Fans Idea of Fist Talent

CHICAGO—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, considered one of the most promising contenders for the heavyweight crown held by Jack Dempsey and who meets Dan O'Dowd of New York at South Bend, Labor day, gave an interesting exhibition of his wares at the Arcade.

The Gopher battler is in great condition as a result of a training siege in northern Minnesota. He weighs 178 pounds.

After he skipped the rope and shadow boxed, Tom pulled on the gloves and made ready for six rounds of boxing. He put on a head guard and went two fast sessions with Jack Duffy, local middleweight. Tom's left hand was always in evidence, and he crossed his right in one-two fashion on numerous occasions.

Gibbons then took on Phil Harrison, Chicago heavyweight, and an interesting two round session took place, with all the fighting at close quarters. They roughed it and banged away at each other's body. Tom finished by going two rounds with Bud Taylor, a fast featherweight, who made the big fellow step around. According to Manager Eddie Kane, the proposed match between Carpentier and Gibbons will take place in January.

More Trials to Decide Winner of Harmsworth Cu

DETROIT, Mich.—A last minute change in plans by officials in charge of the gold cup Harmsworth trophy regatta here, left the one mile speed boat championship of North America undecided. Three hydroplanes, Miss America I, of Detroit, holder of the title; Miss Chicago of the Chicago Yacht club, and the sea sled Orlo III., owned by George Leary of New York, competed against time but it was announced additional trials will be held immediately after the British international Harmsworth trophy race, to be completed Monday or Tuesday of next week.

The world's record for single engined hydroplanes was raised to 70.951 miles an hour by Miss Chicago in her six one mile dashes. The old mark was 63,498 miles an hour.

Slugging Yanks Knock Trio of Hurlers for 21 Safe Hits

WASHINGTON, D. C.—New York climbed to within two points of the league leadership by defeating Washington on Wednesday, 17 to 9. The visitors hammered a trio of local pitchers for 21 hits, including a home run by Meusel into the centerfield bleachers, the longest drive ever registered in the park.

Divide 1, Win Bill.

DETROIT—Cleveland and Detroit divided a double bill here on Wednesday, the visitors taking the first 10 to 1 and dropping the second, 7 to 3. In the first game Dauss and Hollings were hit hard, while in the second Mails and Uhle were wild, forcing in four of Detroit's runs.

Red Sox Whip Reds.

BOSTON—Boston took the last game of the Cincinnati series, 3 to 1, on Wednesday, Oeschger holding the visitors to six hits and getting sensational support from Ford, Barbare and Boenckel. Markle pitched well for Cincinnati, but was given wretched support.

Browns Win.

PHILADELPHIA—St. Louis hammered Winters and Betts for 23 hits on Wednesday and won its final game here by the score of 12 to 5. Philadelphia had a brief rally in the fifth inning when the locals drove Haines from the mound, but North prevented further scoring. Hornsby's double in the fifth was his two-hundredth hit of the season and his home run in the seventh made his twentieth.

Cubs-Cards Split.

CHICAGO—St. Louis and Chicago divided a double header on Wednesday, the locals taking the first game, which was a batting bee, 7 to 5, giving Faber his 24th win of the season, while the visitors won the second game, which was a pitching duel, 3 to 2. Faber wrenched his knee in fielding a ball and retired in the seventh inning of the initial contest.

Charge Man Bit His Mother-in-Law; She Dies

KENOSHA — A "mother-in-law quarrel turned out a tragedy here Wednesday when Mrs. Lucia Andreucci, 56, died at St. Catherine's hospital from blood poisoning which developed from an injury to the little finger on her right hand when it was badly bitten by her son-in-law, Joseph Angelotti, in a quarrel on June 30. Infection followed and the woman died. Dist. Att'y Frank Symmons is investigating. The woman had interfered in a domestic quarrel when he was bitten by her son-in-law.

Lenroot and the King of Spain

Wisconsin Senator and Monarch Are Willing to Let Others Do the Fighting.

SENATOR LENROOT and the King of Spain are "standing back of the boys" these days.

* * *

Denouncing those who play the political game among the soldiers Senator Lenroot took occasion, at the convention of soldiers at Detroit, to make a POLITICAL attack on Senator La Follette. Among other things he said:

"I suggest to you one unfailing test of the demagogue who appeals to you, and that is, when you were fighting in the trenches, when every day when the sun rose you did not know whether it was to be your last, what was the attitude then of the man who appeals for favor now. If in congress did he vote for America or did he vote for Germany? Did he vote for the selective draft to insure that sufficient men would be secured to support you, taking the son of the millionaire with the son of the washerwoman, or did he not? No man who was against America during the war can be a true friend of the ex-service man now.

"But the service men will not be deceived and they will in the future cast their votes as they fought for America."

* * *

The following appeared the other day in Mr. Brisbane's column in The Wisconsin News:

"Alfonso, King of Spain, in a speech to his troops, sent to fight Moors in Africa, says: 'I regret, as King, I cannot go with you, but when you come under fire your King is beside you.'

"Not exactly 'beside' them. Even the important officers are not beside them. If kings, statesmen and generals were actually beside the little fighters and petty officers sent to the trenches and out against poison gas, there would be less war. When his men are killed by Moors across the Mediterranean, the King will be playing polo, passing on to the next royal incident. Make kings and capitalists say 'Come and fight' instead of 'Go and fight.' Then you'll see peace."

* * *

There isn't much difference between Mr. Lenroot and the king of Spain.

It has been the habit, during recent years, for Mr. Lenroot to slap himself on the chest and tell about "standing back of the boys." Mr. Lenroot is like a lot of others in that millionaire's club,—the U. S. senate. He "stood back of the boys" (3,000 miles back of them) and voted for OTHER men's sons to go into the hell and fire of war. Then he turned around, as he has been doing ever since, and voted as those who made millions out of the war wanted Lenroot to vote.

Forced over into the reactionary camp with Penrose, Smoot, Harding and Watson, Lenroot continues to chirp the platitudes and the sophomoc buncomb that used to go during the hysteria of war as good political thunder. Lenroot, the politician, is beginning to see that the service men are beginning to realize that their REAL friends are those who are against the whole institution of war wherever found—and this irritates him.

* * *

Yes, Mr. Lenroot wishes that he could silence the "demagogues."

He would like to put a muffler on those "demagogues" who persist in discussing Lenroot's vote on the Esch-Cummins law—a measure whose iniquities are becoming more apparent each day. Mr. Lenroot would like to silence the "demagogues" who continue to throw the light on Mr. Lenroot's continued service to the big interests at Washington. He dislikes to have the soldiers told that when the bonus proposition recently came up in the senate that Mr. Lenroot was not in his seat.

Mr. Lenroot ought to get some new political thunder. His present repertoire will be rather stale by 1925.

JUDGE LYNCH

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, the official organ of the Republican party says:

"The Republican national platform of 1920 promised legislation for the suppression of the national crime of lynching. That promise should at an early date be fulfilled. The spirit of lawlessness is growing throughout the country and crimes of violence by bodies of men who presume to take the law in their hands are multiplying. The organization of the Ku Klux Klan, dedicated to the task of taking the enforcement of law out of the hands of organized government and turning it over to irresponsible bands of masked regulators, operating under cover of darkness, is rapidly proceeding. Texas alone has had more than a score of reported manifestations of mob law during the past few weeks. In the absence of some measure forcing local communities to maintain law and order a reign of lawlessness may ensue throughout the country the consequences of which will be more serious than anyone now imagines.

"Representative Browne, of Wisconsin, has introduced an anti-lynching measure which is worthy of serious consideration (H. R. 7886). It provides that whenever person or property shall be destroyed by reason of the act of any mob or riot, the city, county, town or parish wherein the act of violence takes place shall be liable to the owner of the destroyed or injured property, or to the person who has suffered injury,—in case of death, to his legal representatives."

PRESS COMMENT

A CONFESSION

Over in Fond du Lac county they have launched what is to be known as the La Follette Progressive association having for its purpose the re-election of Senator La Follette in 1922. Perhaps such an organization may be of some benefit to the community, but from the viewpoint of assisting the senator we can see no need. La Follette despite all the claims of his enemies, is going to be elected by the largest mapority by the largest majority ever given him. While this prediction may not be the most pleasing reading to those who did or will oppose him, it is well to be prepared for the shock that is sure to come.—Sheboygan Press.

THE LAWRENCE PLAN

What is called the "Lawrence Plan" of education in citizenship was established in the Oliver school in Lawrence, Mass., with the co-operation of the Lowell, Mass., state normal school, and the National Security league. The purpose of this experiment was to find what changes should be made in school programs and methods so that they could turn out better citizens.

This experiment, which has been watched with interest all over the country, demonstrated certain principles. First, education in civics should continue through a child's entire course. No child is too young to begin learning his duty to the community.

Second, each child must learn to perform his own duty to the community, so that loyalty to the obligations of citizenship shall be a fundamental habit of thought in his mind.

Third, each child must know what the peculiar principles of the American system are.

Fourth, each child must learn the four most essential principles of democracy, which could be stated as follows: 1—A personal interest in the welfare of everybody in the community. 2—Willingness to take hold and work for the public good. 3—The development of good judgment in the individual citizen, so he can make right choice when it comes to selecting his public officials and deciding upon matters of public policy. 4—The sense of fair play, which will see that every individual in the community gets a fair chance.

If every young person in Sheboygan could come out from his school course with those four principles deeply imbedded in his thought, what a tremendous difference it would make in the future of his community! There would be universal helpfulness, friendliness, and neighborliness, willingness to render service. A town with these qualities is a driving force of unified energy, sure to achieve big results in social progress and business success. Sheboygan Press.

You are willing, then, to have the big business propaganda of the Security League put into the schools?

Badger Crops Aided by Rain During Week

The weather was moderately warm and showers occurred in most localities, with heavy rain in many northern and eastern counties, which benefited potatoes, corn, and pastures, says the weekly report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Rain is still needed, however, in many south-central and soueh-western counties. Corn is mostly in good condition. It is maturing rapidly and some has been harvested. Silo filling is well advanced. Late potatoes have improved, but they are mostly fair to poor. Tobacco is good and a large part of the crop is in shed. Cranberries need rain; sugar beets are doing well; truck is improved. Grains are about all threshed. Fall plowing is in progress where not too dry. Some winter grains have been seeded and the condition in most localities is good, but in some places the ground is too dry for germination.

WASHINGTON—Sen. Watson advised President Harding that the tax revision bill would be ready for consideration by the senate when it convened Sept. 21.

ON THE SIDE

AW RIGHT HELEN

I love you! Do you think it bold
For me to speak so plain?
Judge not too harshly nor too soon,
But list while I explain.

I penned some little verses and
I sent them far and wide;
Cruel editors returned them, which
Was hurtful to my pride.

But verses grow no better, sure,
By lying in a drawer;
So I sent them to you, sweetheart,
And they came back no more.

It may be you are married, or
May have a fearful squint—
I'd love you just the same, dear,
'Cause you put my stuff in print!

—Helen J. Bowen.

Ninety per cent of the people who drink gin procured from a drug store become ill from its effects.

Seventy per cent of the husbands are glad when their wives go away for the summer; but they also rejoice when they come back.

So far as the rift between Geraldine and Tellegen is concerned we refuse to become at all excited. We stopped throwing fits over theatrical divorces ten years ago.

Georges Carpentier received a great reception in Paris, but the Parisites all seemed to agree that he made a great mistake by spending a certain afternoon in New Jersey.

One hears that the smart set is shocked by rumors of a divorce. It seems to us that by time the smart set would be regular shock absorbers, as, to our certain knowledge, it has been shocked at least a dozen times this season.

SAPS I HAVE MET

Mr. Ambrose Bibbins has probably tried to do more for me than any of my other friends. Hardly a day has passed during the past few racing seasons that he has not come to my office about I o'clock in the afternoon with a tip direct from the stables on a horse that couldn't lose if he ran on three legs. "We missed yesterday, but we cannot possibly miss today," said Mr. Bibbins. "My brother-in-law was out at the stables this morning and he has put down 100 bones on this nag." Mr. Bibbins has a system that cannot lose—during the winter months when there is no racing in our vicinity. The fact that Mr. Bibbins has occasionally put my money on a horse that was not entered, and that nobody ever heard of, does not diminish his friendship for me. He is as faithful as ever.
